BMSCE ACM Student Chapter is a student-run organization that provides opportunities for students to learn about computing and computer science, network with other students and professionals, and participate in events and activities that promote the advancement of computing. If you're interested in learning more about computing or computer science, or if you're looking for a way to get involved in the computing community, then the BMSCE ACM Student Chapter is the perfect place for you!

What Are We?

We are the BMSCE ACM Student Chapter, the official student chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) at B.M.S. College of Engineering, Bengaluru.
As a recognized part of the world's largest computing society, we are a vibrant, student-led community passionate about technology, innovation, and collaboration.

Our chapter serves as a bridge between students and the professional computing world—providing a platform to learn, lead, and grow in both technical and non-technical dimensions.

What We Do

Driven by the philosophy of "Transforming Passion into Progress," the BMSCE ACM Student Chapter empowers students through technical events, leadership opportunities, and community initiatives.

Technical Events
We host workshops, hackathons, and expert sessions to build skills and offer early professional exposure.

Community and Leadership
Through Samanvaya, our community service initiative, we support orphanages, old age homes, and government schools. Student-led teams manage content, design, media, logistics, and more.

Outreach and Networking
With strong alumni support and national ACM participation, we connect students to real-world opportunities and industry insights.

Our Mission

To foster a culture of continuous learning, innovation, and collaboration by providing students with opportunities in technology, leadership, and community service. We aim to bridge the gap between academics and the professional world through meaningful engagement.

Our Vision

To be one of the leading student chapter that transforms passion into progress by nurturing future-ready individuals who excel in technology and contribute responsibly to society.
